

Lavender

Planting

Transplantation can be done either in autumn or in spring. Lavender is planted at a distance of 1.20 or 1.40 m in between rows and 30-40 cm inside the rows. About 20,000 plants per ha give the highest yield. Earthing up of soil around the seedlings is considered good for the rooting.