

Turnip

Irrigation

Usually seed is sown when there is sufficient moisture in the soil. A light irrigation is given immediately after sowing. Depending upon the planting season and the available soil moisture, radish may be irrigated at 10-12 days interval during winter and 5-6 days interval during summer.