

Marigold

Irrigation

During the vegetative growth of marigold there should not be any water shortage as it hampers growth and consequently flowering. Frequency of irrigation depends mainly on the season and soil type. In winter, irrigation is given at an interval of 8-10 days while in summer frequent irrigation at intervals of 4-5 days are required.