

Carrot

Intercultural Operations

Intercultural operations like weeding and hoeing are necessary to check the weed growth and provide soil aeration for better growth and yield. Hoeing not only checks weeds but also facilitates soil aeration and results in better root growth. Earthing up of roots along with weeding is done to prevent exposure of roots to atmosphere and consequent discoloration