

Peas

Irrigation

The crop is lightly irrigated immediately after sowing. For proper germination, a pre-sowing irrigation is advisable. Subsequent irrigation are given at the time of flowering and pod development stage. In case of light and sandy soils, frequent irrigation is necessary. Normally during the dry periods, light irrigation is given at an interval of 10-12 days however excessive irrigation should be avoided.